PIANO PROGRAMS

Young Beginner (Pre-K to K)

Begin a magical musical adventure for your little one with our Young Beginner's (Ages 4.5 to 5) Program! Enjoy 30-minute weekly lessons with the KeyNotes Group Piano Program, tailored to engage your child's curiosity through storytelling, movement, singing, and playful key exploration—both on and off the piano.

Our lessons are a breeze, full of fun, structure, and perfect for the developmental stage of preschool to kindergarten-aged kiddos. Imagine the joy as your child proudly performs in a piano ensemble for you on their 12th lesson—a special musical moment just for you!

Watch your little musician progress through levelled challenges, mastering letters A-G, finger numbers 1-5, and basic counting and rhythms with confidence in both hands.

Getting ready for our Elementary Piano Program? Anticipate completing 3 to 4 vibrant workbooks, tailored to your child's age, abilities, and readiness to focus, be independent, and self-regulate. Potty-trained kids are all set for this musical journey! Let's create melodious memories together!

Elementary Beginner (6+)

Envision a harmonious journey for your child and yourself with our Elementary Beginner's (Ages 6 to adults) Program! Immerse in enriching 60-minute weekly lessons driven by the captivating Piano Express Program.

Picture 30 minutes of delightful discovery—exploring sight reading, technique, ear training, and composition—focused on specific learning goals. Then, experience 30 minutes of assessment using our innovative Piano Express web application. Your child gets the best of both worlds: the camaraderie of group learning and the tailored pace of individualized learning.

Our program expands your child's knowledge and creativity through their natural senses, reinforcing learning through singing, rhythm making, and note reading. Lessons are a joyous journey, step-by-step, and personalized, allowing students to progress at their own pace within a supportive group setting.

Elementary Beginner (6+)

PIANO PROGRAMS

Picture special 'recital' weeks, where in-class performances shine on the 12th week of lessons. Plus, your child gains access to our accelerative program 'Supersonics Plus' online for sight-reading reinforcements and the sheer joy of playing music.

Students are encouraged to learn songs of their interest such as pop songs and to participate in yearly recitals, festivals or exams after completion of Level 4. All students will be invited to join Performance Prep sessions prior to their upcoming festival or exam. Students continuing into the Summer Term have complimentary access to the Piano Maestro (or, Simply Piano) app found on Apple iOS.

When a student completes Level 1 to 6, they will have mastered impeccable steady rhythm, scales, technique, dynamics, sight reading, and articulations thus allowing them to smoothly transition into Grade 1 or 2 RCM. We recommend students to start private piano lessons or to apply to join our Intermediate Piano Program.

PIANO PROGRAMS

Intermediate Levels (8 to 14)

The Intermediate Piano Program (Ages 8 to 14) is similar to the Elementary Beginner's Program, with the exception of an extra 30-minutes of focus on repertoire for festivals and exams and group ensembles. This makes the program 90-minutes long each week. Students are encouraged to learn fun songs or focus on a genre of music (e.g., classical, Disney, Ghibli Studio, jazz, etc...) or engage in a composer study.

Students will perform with others through ensembles and duets thus making learning the piano enjoyable and sociable. When a student completes Grade 4 RCM, they will move onto private piano lessons. Students are expected to perform at all recitals and to elect one: RCM exam or Piano festival.

PIANO PROGRAMS

Intermediate Levels (8 to 14)

Students who complete this program will experience peer motivation through playing ensembles with others, socialization and team work, and further developing performance skills and technique. In the classroom, this indirectly inspires and motivates the students as those in the lead love to be recognized and those who are learning at their own pace may become inspired to move up to the next challenge level simply by seeing that someone can do it too! This type of synergistic environment is different from just having parents, teachers, and events as their main source of motivation.

Beyond the Intermediate Levels, students can continue into our Advanced Levels (Grade 5 RCM to 7 RCM). Students who complete these levels will have a chance to apply to work as a teaching assistant in our program. Students who proceed onto our Leadership Levels (Grade 8 to 9 RCM) will have a chance to be mentored to take in their own private beginner's students. How exciting!

- A 3.5% to 5% percent increase on monthly payments is automatically added annually (October 1) invoices.

POLICIES & RULES

Missed Lesson Policies

- We will close our studio if road conditions are poor, due to snowy weather. We do not follow the VSB in regard to snow day closings. We make all of our decisions by 12 noon on days of snowy weather. If we decide to close, all families scheduled for that day will be notified via email. If we are closed, we will make sure every student is given the opportunity to make the missed class up on another day. We are not able to refund on the days we close because of snow.
- If your child misses a lesson for any reason, please send us an email, we will help you reschedule it for another day as soon as possible within the week or two. Make up lessons are offered only to students who are currently enrolled in our program with no outstanding payment due. We are not able to refund, transfer, or give credit because of missed lessons. If a teacher is away and a substitute cannot be found, we will reschedule your class and help you find a make up lesson as soon as possible.

BUYING A PIANO

What piano should I buy?

If you buy something that looks like this...
This is a 61-key keyboard. Not a piano.

Pros

- They are really affordable!
- $99 - $149
- They are portable and small.

Cons

- Poorest sound quality of all choices.
- The “feel” of the keys are not the same as a real piano. They are “unweighted.”
- The student will always be bothered by how heavy the keys of a real piano feel
- if they are used to a the feel of a small keyboard.

Why buy?

If you are looking for an inexpensive keyboard to get your child started with, this will work. However, it is only a temporary purchase. You will need to upgrade after your child progresses to a more responsive instrument.

Popular Brands: Yamaha, Casio

BUYING A PIANO

What piano should I buy?

If you buy something that looks like this...
This is a basic digital piano.

Pros

- You get the sound and feel of a real piano at good price. $650-$1000
- "Weighted keys" and "hammer action" are features that almost always come with these types of pianos. Please make sure your model does!
- You can control the volume, use headphones, and connect to a computer.

Cons

- Less reliable than acoustic pianos. They might break or malfunction after a few years.
- The sound quality of a digital instrument will never match the responsive sound of an acoustic instrument. The sound quality is often very good, but not the best.

Why buy?

If your student is committed to piano for years to come, this is a great choice. It will meet all the needs of a piano student who is learning the basics of the instrument.

Popular Brands: Alesis, Casio, Korg, Yamaha

BUYING A PIANO

What piano should I buy?

If you buy something that looks like one of these... these are acoustic (not electronic) pianos, and high-end digital pianos.

Pros

- The very best sound quality and “feel” on the keys.
- Best resale values. These pianos will not lose value as quickly. Some high-end acoustic pianos have been known to appreciate over time!
- Very durable. Acoustic pianos can last up to 100 years. Good digital pianos can last 10 - 20 years.
- High end digital pianos have expansive sound banks (they can sound like lots of other instruments), recording capabilities, and many interactive applications with computers.
- Acoustic pianos do not need electricity to operate.

Cons

- They are expensive. $2000 and up for digital pianos. $5000 and up for acoustic pianos. $10000 and up for acoustic grand pianos. Acoustic pianos will need to be tuned regularly. $250 - $350/year.
- Acoustic pianos can not connect with headphones or computers.

BUYING A PIANO

Piano

Grand Piano

Piano

Why buy?

If your child is serious about piano, these instruments can handle the subtle nuances of different touches (louder, softer, longer, shorter) to create a more responsive, expressive sound. Music is an art form, and these instruments do the songs the most justice. The student will connect with the music on a more personal level, if the sound is rich and vibrant. These instruments will deliver that kind of sound.

These instruments are also the more visually attractive option. You can put them in a prominent place in your house and it will make the whole room look great!
